

This summer Late Night Venture - of Copenhagen, Denmark - will be presenting their own brand of postrock/ shoegaze flavoured atmospherics & multilayered soundscapes to UK audiences. The "Illuminations" EP is released June 2010 in the UK by Code 7 / Plastichead - and coinciding with this, Late Night Venture plays a series of shows across the UK.

Going back 7 years, 2 albums, 2 EP's and 100+ gigs across continental Europe, Late Night Venture has developed a unique style of cinematic moods, complex textures and melodies. Walking in the footsteps of Mono, Red Sparowes, Applesseed Cast and more, the band has in recent years shared the bill with like-minded indie acts such as Jeniferever, This Will Destroy You, Imanu El and The Kissaway Trail.

Following the full length album "Late Night Venture" of 2006, the "Illuminations"-EP contains four songs spanning from the twisted waltz of "Love respect call" to the dark and ghostly layers of "Acorns Fall" and spacious landscapes of "Sidekick Trip To Mars".

"Illuminations" is produced & mixed by Magnus Lindberg (producer / drummer for Cult of Luna), who is also set to team up with Late Night Venture in the making of their forthcoming second full length album to be recorded in the late summer of 2010. "Illuminations" is already released in Scandinavia and continental Europe, and will be released in the UK by Code7 / Plastichead.

The members of LNV have all been active on the independent Danish music scene for more than a decade. The band itself was formed in 2002 in the shape of dream pop outfit "flying virgins", whose debut album "Your Spectacular Light" & subsequent EP "Lazy" received critical acclaim & enthusiastic responses from European, Japanese & Chinese audiences. In 2006, the band reincarnated into Late Night Venture releasing a self-titled album that same year.
